SHEN YUN PERFORMING ARTS. Audiences who have seen it recall the experience of a lifetime; a moment so powerfully beautiful, it touches the soul.

Shen Yun presents colorful and exhilarating performances of classical Chinese dance and music. A performance by Shen Yun is a presentation of traditional Chinese culture as it once was: a study in grace, wisdom, and the virtues distilled from the five millennia of Chinese civilization.

Every year, Shen Yun unveils an entirely new lineup of dances, songs, and musical scores. At the core of Shen Yun's performances is classical Chinese dance with China's numerous ethnic and folk dance styles rounding out the evening.

In a collection of short pieces, audiences travel from the Himalayas to tropical lake-filled regions, from the legends of the culture's creation over 5,000 years ago to the story of Falun Dafa in China today, from the highest heavens down to the dusty plateaus of the Middle Kingdom.

During a single performance, Shen Yun transports audiences across time and space, offering a cross-cultural experience that not only entertains, but more broadly, educates and inspires. After seeing the show, one audience member marveled, "This production ... is nothing short of a miracle!"

A DANCE SYSTEM TEMPERED OVER THOUSANDS OF YEARS

Classical Chinese dance is one of the most demanding and expressive art forms in the world. Grounded in 5,000 years of divinely inspired culture, classical Chinese dance entails systematic training in movements and postures, as well as very difficult leaps, flips, spins and other tumbling techniques. Richly expressive, it portrays personalities and feelings with unparalleled clarity, making classical Chinese dance ideal for storytelling.

Built on traditional aesthetics, classical Chinese dance was once passed down among the people, in imperial courts and ancient plays. Over thousands of years, it was constantly refined, eventually developing into the vast and distinctly Chinese dance form we know today.

City says goodbye to young lives lost

More than 1,000 attend funeral for little girls killed in Christmas Day fire ◗ Mother who survived blaze talks for half an hour about her daughters ◗ Asks that her girls be remembered through good deeds

More than 1,000 people packed inside Midtown's St. Thomas Church Thursday to pay their respects to three little girls who died in a tragic Christmas Day fire.

Madonna Badger, the grieving mother of Lily, 9, and twins Grace and Sarah, 7, spoke tenderly about her children at a public funeral in their memory.

"I want to remember my girls out loud," Badger said. "My girls are in my heart. They're right here, and that's where they live now."

Badger, a renowned New York City fashion executive, broke down several times while speaking, but continued despite her tears.

"All they left behind is love," said Badger.

The girls died in a fire at Badger's home in Stamford, Conn. The home, which was under renovation at the time, was wired for smoke detectors and alarms, but they hadn't been installed yet, according to the New York Post.

Matthew Badger, the girls' father, who is separated from his wife, did not speak, but asked Rev. Dr. William S. Shillady to speak for him.

He described Grace as a "force of creative nature," Lily like "a beautiful song," and Sarah as wise beyond her years, a person who "saw the goodness in all of us."

The Badgers asked that Lily, Grace and Sarah be remembered through acts of service. Each guest was given a donation card for a foundation set up in the girls' honor, the Other 364 Foundation. Musician Rufus Wainwright sang "Over the Rainbow."

The funeral was followed by a private burial ceremony in the Bronx.

Madonna Badger is a longtime Manhattanite and former art director at Calvin Klein. Among the hundreds who came to mourn her daughters were musician Lou Reed, actor Phillip Seymour-Hoffman and designers Calvin Klein and Vera Wang.

How did fire start?

NEW YORK. The fatal fire occurred in the early morning hours of Christmas Day.

The blaze began from embers Badger and boyfriend Michael Borcina removed from the fireplace after they were up late wrapping gifts on Christmas Eve, fire investigators said.

Borcina removed the ashes at the girls' request, according to reports, so Santa would not be burned coming down the chimney.

The embers ignited, and only Badger and Borcina were able to escape as the house was destroyed.

Badger's parents, Pauline, 69, and Lomer Johnson, 71, also perished in the flames. METRO/CB

Rising star stuck in third place

WASHINGTON. Republican candidate Rick Santorum is gaining ground in the early voting state of New Hampshire, but rival Mitt Romney still holds a strong lead ahead of Tuesday's primary.

Santorum finished behind Romney in this week's Iowa nominating contest, rising to third place among likely primary voters, according to a 7 News/Suffolk University tracking poll, edging ahead of former House Speaker Newt Gingrich and former Utah Governor Jon Huntsman.

Romney polled 43 percent support a day earlier, while Santorum had 6 percent. REUTERS

Allies align in attacks on Romney

WASHINGTON. Newt Gingrich, angry over his poor performance in the Iowa caucuses, may have a new and unlikely partner in his quest to tarnish rival Mitt Romney: President Obama.

Though they both wish to win in 2012, Obama and Gingrich share an agenda in bringing down Romney. Gingrich, who was first in Iowa polls only weeks ago, came in a disappointing fourth place after being attacked heavily in ads by a group aligned with Romney. REUTERS

Santorum growing rich as his star rises

- Conservative politician started out as one of the poorest senators
- Signed on with some outside companies, bringing in $1.3 million

GETTY IMAGES

▶ Former U.S. Sen. Rick Santorum (R) greets diners at the Tilt'n Diner yesterday in Tilton, N.H.

Former Pennsylvania Senator Rick Santorum describes himself on the campaign trail as a frugal man of faith and limited means.

"I come from a little different background than most Republicans," he said at a Jan. 2 town-hall meeting in Newton, Iowa, where he recalled playing as a child outside the coal mines in which his grandfather toiled.

Santorum has come a long way from those gritty early days to the top tier of the Republican presidential primary race after coming in second to Mitt Romney in the Jan. 3 Iowa caucuses.

Since his 2006 re-election defeat, the former Pennsylvania lawmaker has gone from being one of the poorer members of the U.S. Senate to earning $1.3 million between January 2010 and August 2011. In 2007, he spent $2 million to buy a 5,000-square-foot home.

Santorum's financial rise was powered by consulting contracts with fuel producer Consol Energy, faith advocacy group Clapham Group and American Continental Group, a Washington consultancy, as well as media engagements. BLOOMBERG

WEEKEND

THE IMPORTANCE OF 'PORTLANDIA'

As the comedy show returns for a second season on IFC, Fred Armisen talks about addictive television, the importance of editing and why he likes to get out of control

In one sketch during the new season of "Portlandia," the characters played by Fred Armisen and Carrie Brownstein decide to watch a single episode of "Battlestar Galactica" before they head out to a friend's birthday party. Unable to pull themselves away from the TV after 45 minutes, they miss the party, end up devouring the first season, and over a few consecutive days, the whole series. Jobs are lost, bills go unpaid and they stop getting up to use the bathroom. At one point Brownstein tiredly says, "I a little bit feel like I have a bladder infection, but I'm just going to get antibiotics after the next episode."

This scene is typical of the comedic duo's adoration of the absurd, and is one that could easily apply to viewers of their show.

▶ "Portlandia" premieres Friday at 10 p.m. on IFC. Brownstein, left, and Armisen will also appear live on Jan. 20 at the Bowery Ballroom as part of a "Portlandia" live show.

CHRIS HORNBECKER/IFC

Quoted

"We film so much stuff. We could do a whole season of what we didn't use."
ARMISEN

The first season recently began streaming on Netflix, and the second season premieres Friday.

Armisen says he has found himself in similarly intense viewing marathons with shows like "Game of Thrones" and "The Wire."

What makes the comedy hit so hard is Armisen and Brownstein's ability to create relatable situations that go awry. He says the pair are able to get so ridiculous because almost half of the show is improvised.

"We film so much stuff," he says. "We could do a whole season of what we didn't use."

Armisen says a large portion of that unused footage is he and Brownstein ruining the scenes by laughing uncontrollably at what the other one has come up with on the spot. He is quick to give away the credit for the finished product.

"We're not part of the editing process," he explains, "because those guys are geniuses."

Armisen says relinquishing that authority is liberating because every time he watches the edits, he finds himself saying, "Oh my gosh, I never thought that we wouldn't need that."

"That's a really weird part of the process, where you think you're in control, but you know it's good that you're not in control."

PAT HEALY

Real-life inspiration

'That guy does exist!'

Armisen is probably best known to mainstream audiences for his portrayal of President Obama on "Saturday Night Live." The characters he plays on "Portlandia" are heightened versions of everyday people and self-serious hipster types (think feminist bookstore owners and bike messengers) that are so spot-on they feel like they must come from an arsenal of acquaintances. Not so, he says: "It's a weird thing, where it happens afterward. ... I thought it was just in my imagination, but then I'll drive around Portland and totally ... see guys like that. So it's like, 'Oh yeah, that guy does exist!'"

Is that your final answer?

It may not be the end of the world ... yet But as we begin 2012, the year the Mayan calendar ends, we ask a few celebrities what they would do on Judgment Day

Jamie Bell, actor

What's your last meal?
It would definitely be a meat dish. I love meat. It's so bad, but damn, it's pretty good. Maybe just cook a whole cow.
What is the last song you'll sing in the shower?
Maybe "Let it Be" [by The Beatles]. Or you could go out on something completely ironic like [the Monty Python song] "Always Look on the Bright Side of Life."
What is the last movie you'll watch?
I would love to say something really influential, about the goodness of humanity, but it would probably be "Jurassic Park."

Wiz Khalifa, rapper

What is the last song you'll sing in the shower?

"Save The Children" by Marvin Gaye.
What is the last movie you'll watch and with whom?
"The Notebook" with Amber Rose.
What is the one luxury item you'll bring with you to the New World?
My laptop.
Who is the one fellow celebrity with whom you'll want to travel to the New World? Amber.

Mindy Kaling, writer, producer, actress on 'The Office'

What would your last meal be?
My last meal would be probably Ethiopian food, my favorite kind of food. It's super heavy and I love it.
What is the last song you'll sing in the shower?
"Countdown" by Beyonce.
What is the last movie you would watch and with whom?
The last movie I would watch would be "You've Got Mail" and I'd watch it with my mom.
One luxury item you'd bring with you to the new world?
In the post-apocalyptical world where it's like Cormac McCarthy's "The Road" and everyone is dirty and disgusting, I'd bring a Judith Leiber clutch, like in my rags.
One celebrity you'd want to travel with to the new world?
Aaron Sorkin

Adam Carolla, comedian

What would your last meal be?
I'd go to the busiest restaurant, whose kitchen was most backed up, and then I would change my order three or four times. I'd stretch it out. I'd eat lobsters raised on Snickers bars then dipped in a buttermilk substance mixed with tempura sauce and then deep-fried. With heroin sprinkled on it.
What is the last song you'll sing in the shower?
There's two ways you can go: You can go with one of my favorites like John Hiatt or Elvis Costello and hear something you really want to hear. Or, a better approach would be to take a horrible song like "Maneater" by Hall & Oates and want to die.
What is the last movie you'll watch and with whom?
I would pick a long movie. There's a theme here, I want to stretch it out. I'd watch "Goodfellas" with Joe Pesci and make sure he got drunk and have him re-enact his scenes. I'd have Ray Liotta there, too, and make them do their crazy laughs for me.
What is the one luxury item you'll bring with you to the New World?
Wait a minute, this is stretching the boundaries of reality. You can't transport items. You're dead. There's no taking anything with you. METRO

Would you like to study the Bible – seriously?

"Be diligent to present yourself approved to God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."
2 Timothy 2:15

Lots of people discuss the Bible, but not as many study it carefully and comprehensively. If you are willing to invest some time and effort (not money) we will help. Private and small group studies are available on a variety of subjects and study levels.

Sizing up the 2012 midseason schedule

Live from the Television Critics Association press tour: Metro heads to California to find out which networks will stick to their resolutions this year

It's that time of year when everyone is making resolutions — even television networks. Midseason offers programmers another shot at tweaking their schedules and wooing audiences with new programming. So I've headed to Pasadena, Calif., where the semi-annual Television Critics Association press tour is taking place, to check out the new offerings and see if the networks' promises of fresh, exciting shows are truly long-term commitments or doomed to be forgotten two weeks from now. For live reports from the TCA press tour, follow me on Twitter @amberatmetro and visit www.metro.us/tv. Here are a few TCA highlights that I'll be covering:

FOX

▶ Fox hit "New Girl," starring Zooey Deschanel, is opening its set to the TCA press tour.

"Smash"

There hasn't been a show with this much pre-pre-miere buzz since "Glee" — and I'm not just saying that because this, too, is a music-centric series. I'll be talking to star Katherine McPhee and the rest of the cast in this Steven Spielberg-produced drama, which details the opening of a Broadway musical, on Friday. (Premieres Feb. 6 at 10 p.m. on NBC)

Set visits: "Suburgatory" and "New Girl"

Funny ladies have been the toast of the new TV season, and two of my favorite female-centric sitcoms are opening their sets to TV critics on Monday. ("Suburgatory" airs Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m. on ABC. "New Girl" airs Tuesdays at 9 p.m. on Fox.)

Vice presidents new and old

Al Gore, Current TV Chairman and Co-Founder — and, of course, our former vice president — will speak to critics about the state of cable news on Jan. 13. Julia Louis-Dreyfus, meanwhile, just plays the vice president on TV. Still, she'll be talking about the gig and her new HBO comedy, "Veep," on Jan. 13. ("Veep" will premiere in April on HBO.)

TV watch list

'Mob Wives'

REALITY. There's something about a "makeup talk" that Drita and Karen don't understand. Namely, it's the making up part they seem to have trouble with when their conversation takes a vicious turn. Sunday, 8 p.m., VH1

'Absolutely Fabulous'

COMEDY. Edina (Jennifer Saunders) and Patsy (Joanna Lumley) are just as fab as they were 20 years ago when this over-the-top Britcom premiered. The first of three specials brings the overindulging duo up to date with references to Twitter and the royal wedding — and more booze than you even remembered. Sunday, 10 p.m., BBC America and Logo

JACK BARNES © BBC

On Fridays, Dorothy will post the best tweets she received during the week. You can always let her know what you think — good or bad — at @dorothyatmetro.

This week, I asked everyone for a creative, yet family-friendly way, to say "media wh—." And you all replied with your best options. (I guess we all know what will be on Kim Kardashian's tomb stone?) Also, don't be like @Rosie286 — make sure you pick up your Metro. The Word will keep you warm ... with terrible, terrible jokes.

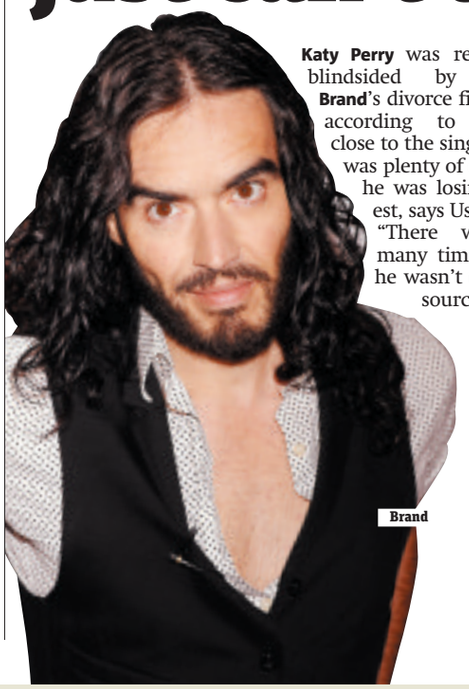
▶ He's certainly not "Invisible."

The Bronzer Age?

This just needs to be said: Is Clay Aiken always wearing foundation? Bronzer? And is that fake beard hair? Am I crazy in thinking he always looks like a ginger Real Doll? What is going on? OK, sorry. Tangent over. Here he is, filming last year for the new season of "Celebrity Apprentice," which premieres Feb. 15.

Russell Brand just can't tell a lie



Brand

Katy Perry was reportedly blindsided by Russell Brand's divorce filing, but according to sources close to the singer there was plenty of evidence he was losing interest, says Us Weekly. "There were so many times when he wasn't there," a source says, offering the last night of Perry's tour in November as an example: "He was totally uninterested and seemed annoyed he was there. I don't think he sat through one song." And then there was Brand's response to her "Saturday Night Live" hosting stint in December. Perry reportedly begged Brand to appear in a skit on the episode, but he declined and stayed in L.A. instead. And after it aired? "He told her that she wasn't that funny," the source says. "That really hurt."

But, um, he was right? It's hard to sit through a Katy Perry concert and she was Nancy Kerrigan-esque terrible on "SNL." Now, if only she would hit him with a taste of his own medicine and tell him to buy a bigger pair of pants.

Demi Moore is super self-reflective

Demi Moore admits that her split from Ashton Kutcher has left her shaken and insecure. "What scares me is that I'm going to ultimately find out at the end of my life that I'm really not lovable, that I'm not worthy of being loved," she tells Harper's Bazaar in a candid interview, adding that she fears finding out "that there's something fundamentally wrong with me and that I wasn't wanted here in the first place." But Moore is moving forward, thanks to some profound advice. "Somebody wrote something to me that said, 'Don't let your wounds make you become someone you're not.' That's really powerful. And not taking life too seriously," she says.

Forget acting, can Demi write a self-help book? She is the new Oprah!

Talking points

No reunion for Shriver

Despite hints of family togetherness and forgiveness over the holidays, Maria Shriver is not actually taking Arnold Schwarzenegger back, according to People magazine. "The reports of a reconciliation are not true," a source says of the estranged couple, who spent Christmas together with their children. "Arnold and Maria will always come together when it comes to supporting and loving their children."

Saldana and Cooper: Getting serious?

Rumors about Bradley Cooper and his "Words" co-star Zoe Saldana getting close apparently had some truth to them, as the pair were spotted getting very cozy at a 1940s-themed New Year's Eve party in Bel Air, according to Us Weekly. "They were making out for 20 minutes," a source says. And while they may be officially keeping each other company, Saldana is reportedly hesitant to let things get too serious too soon. "They're dating, but Zoe just left an engagement," says the source. "She's just looking to have fun."

West takes to Twitter!

It's been a while since Kanye West has turned heads with his Twitter account, and it appears he's making up for lost time with a recent three-hour binge of microblogging about some big plans. During the session, West discussed his new design company, Donda, which will "pick up where Steve Jobs left off," aiming "to help simplify and aesthetically improve everything we see hear, touch, taste and feel" and "dream of, create, advertise and produce products driven equally by emotional want and utilitarian need. To marry our wants and needs." West also discussed plans to serve as creative director for a new "Jetsons" film, design the next MTV Video Music Awards and fix America's educational system.

Don't forget Sen. Ron Paul

RE: "IOWA CONTEST THROWS WRENCH INTO GOP RACE": How can you write an entire page about the Iowa results and not comment on Ron Paul? Only 5 percent down from first and second? Yet you comment on and even give Michele Bachmann, a sixth-place finisher, a section about her idiotic ways. How about some intelligent reporting?
COLLIN SMART, VIA E-MAIL

Federal govt. robbing us all

RE: "NUMBERS GAME: WE GOT SOLD OUT": When the Federal Reserve prints money, who gets it? Banks. Then they loan that money to corporations and so on and so forth until it reaches the middle and poor classes. By the time it reaches us, the market has adjusted to the increased money supply and we suffer with higher prices and thus decreased savings. The government is the enabler of big banks and big corporations which make up a part of the "1 percent." Cut the head off the snake. As President Andrew Jackson said to the central bank of his day, "You are a den of vipers and thieves."
KELLY DONNOE, LYNBROOK

We citizens have certainly noticed how prices have risen for all goods and services. They are going up, up, up while the value of the dollar goes down, down, down. This is the result of money inflation by the government and its partner in crime, the privately held Federal Reserve Bank. Hopefully the next election will correct this treachery.

Limbaugh loves Metro

RE: "PERSON OF THE YEAR, 2011": It was good to see that Metro readers voted Steve Jobs the Person of the Year. Perhaps many of them were influenced by the great Limbaugh's lavish praise for Mr. Jobs over the years, in addition to Rush's accurate description of the alsorans in the voting (the occu-bums) as "parasites."

Cut Obama some slack

RE: "ANYONE BUT OBAMA": If not Obama in 2012, who then? I don't see anyone promising on the horizon. Obama is doing the best he can with the hand he was dealt — all low cards and not a face card that's willing to help. Many would like to forget the origin of this mess, but those who are smart will know that he said it will take a long time to repair all the damage done.

Horoscope

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. You might profit for the moment if you think solely of yourself, but sooner rather than later you'll have to pay the price. Making it worse, your selfishness would be exposed.
♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. It would be best if you handle a problematical development rather than let your counterpart do so. His or her solutions could turn out to be a bit too reckless for you.
♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. If you're smart, you'll refrain from taking measures to even a score with a rival. Instead of being vindictive toward an offender, let the forgiving side of your nature guide your course of action.
♈ Aries March 21-April 19. Even if it's not convenient at the moment for you to do a favor for a pal, find a way to do so anyway. To go out of your way for someone is the true test of friendship.
♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. First and foremost, be realistic about your financial situation. If you can definitely make a profit on something that is a bit of a gamble, fire your best shot.
♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. Instead of simply ordering someone about, set a good example first so that this person can see you're not asking anything of him or her that you wouldn't do yourself.
♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. There is an old World War II saying: "Loose lips sink ships." Let two friends who have confided in you know that they don't have to worry about leakage.
♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. Be careful if the ante gets raised in an important undertaking. All concerned parties might start looking out for their own interests when they find out there is something of value at stake.
♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. Weigh your gains carefully against what you could stand to lose. Have some second thoughts if the balance isn't equal.
♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. If you are prepared to be self-sufficient, the failure of a counted-on party to take care of an entrusted task won't set you back. Grin and bear it.
♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. There's a good chance that you might be called upon to clear up a dispute between friends. The only way you won't get into trouble is to let each party see that you are impartial.
♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. That road that leads to success in an important objective is likely to be littered with all kinds of impediments. Be prepared to have an alternative route mapped out.

A little help from the running game

Giants open playoffs hosting Falcons this Sunday ◗ Could use a big performance from Jacobs, Bradshaw ◗ Run game has improved recently

Giants quarterback Eli Manning has had a career year, but that doesn't mean Big Blue wants to rest solely on his right arm.

Sunday's NFC wild-card playoff matchup against the Falcons is full of storylines — but perhaps none bigger than the question of who will rise up among the Giants' one-dimensional offense and provide Manning with some semblance of balance.

The Giants ended the regular season in an unfamiliar role of worst rushing attack in the 32-team league.

Giants head coach Tom Coughlin said he's been stressing all week to his offensive line and running backs to give Manning a reprieve.

"I think we're going to have to be [balanced], but I think we will be," Coughlin said. "Hopefully, we will run the ball better than we did last weekend, for example. Consistency is the word. I'm not trying to say good, bad or indifferent. But we've had four or five games in a row where we've rushed the ball for over 100 yards. I'll look for that to happen again."

Manning would never call out a struggling teammate, but even he knows he needs help.

"I hope that we can run the ball this week," Manning said, delicately dancing around any specific criticism. "That's what you want to do, especially when you get late in the season [when] it's cold. [And] especially if it's nasty weather like they say we might have. That's what you want to have. Are we going to have to throw the ball successfully? Yes, but you have to understand the circumstances and we have to find a way to find completions, be smart with the ball and, when there are opportunities, hit a couple of big plays. Hopefully we can do that."

Kings fire head coach Westphal

In professional sports, the player always wins.

The Sacramento Kings fired head coach Paul Westphal yesterday after a 2-5 start and, maybe more importantly, an argument with second-year center DeMarcus Cousins.

Cousins publicly demanded a trade last week after expressing dissatisfaction with the offense.

Westphal was 51-120 in two-plus years with the Kings.

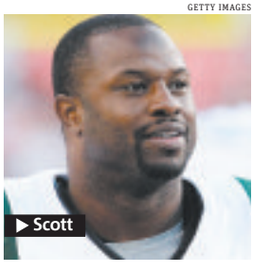
Scott earns $10K fine for finger

GETTY IMAGES



▶ Scott

As he attempted to clear out his locker on Monday morning, less than 24 hours after the Jets lost in Miami to finish 8-8 and out of the playoffs, Bart Scott just wanted to make a quick exit.

Scott refused to address the media that trailed him and on the way out of the locker room he gave a photographer the middle finger. While flashing the gesture, Scott said: "Take a picture of this."

The indiscretion led to a $10,000 fine levied by the Jets on Thursday morning.

A league source, talking to Metro, said that the league will not be fining Scott further for his outburst. It was a team matter, the source said, and the league won't interfere with their own punishment.

Scott's 66 tackles were his lowest since 2004 and he was often exploited in pass coverage. He is projected to earn a $4.2 million dollar base salary from the Jets in 2012. ● KRISTIAN DYER

MLS. Tim Ream

▶ Ream, 24, could be heading to England next year.

Ream to EPL's Bolton?

A move from MLS to the English Premier League could be in the works for Tim Ream, the Red Bulls center back who has solidified himself in the national team picture over the past season. A league source tells Metro New York that Ream has received a "multimillion dollar offer" from Bolton, the club team of American international Stuart Holden. ● METRO/KD

Fantasy sports

ADAM LEVITAN
ALEVITAN@METRO.US

TARGET: 2011 TALENTS

Even at the NFL level, certain guys jump off the game tape as freaks. They are the playmakers, the difference-makers, the elite talents.

In fantasy, these are the players we need to take note of. Their coaches force-feed them the ball and when they get it, they do things that other mere mortals are incapable of.

Here are some guys that emerged as truly different players in 2011:

Julio down by the schoolyard

Julio Jones ran a ridiculous 4.39 second 40-yard dash at the NFL combine and has ideal size at 6-foot-3 and 220 pounds. In his rookie year, he proved that he knows how to use those measurements. Jones is already a better receiver than teammate Roddy White, dominating defenses with his physicality. The consistency will come.

Moore for Denarius

The ability to go deep at the NFL level is an art form. Denarius Moore showed that he's close to mastering it already. His ability to adjust on long balls and make extremely tough catches is some-thing that can't be taught.

Making it rain

If it wasn't for Rob Gronkowski and Jimmy Graham, we'd be talking about Aaron Hernandez as the biggest freak at the tight end position. His skill set is so unique that the Patriots call reverses and bubble screens for him. That's because in the open field, Hernandez makes defenders miss like a wideout.

Julio Jones has the ability to be a Top 5 NFL wideout.

Top NBA pickups

Early-season adds can pay big dividends for the rest of the season:

1. Brandon Rush, SF, GSW — Dorell Wright is already on thin ice as starter. Rush has more raw talent.

2. Marreese Speights, PF, MEM — Speights certainly has the offensive skills to excel while Zach Randolph (knee) is out. We'll see if his defense is strong enough.

3. Gary Neal, SG, SA — Manu Ginobili is out at least six weeks after undergoing surgery on his shooting hand. Neal's shooting ability helps.

NBA news

Cousins stays

DeMarcus Cousins won the battle with Sacramento Kings head coach Paul Westphal. Cousins has only been averaging 26 minutes per game in Westphal's doghouse. Presuming his head is now back in the game, he is worth more.

What is FASTRACK?

It's an entirely new approach to how we perform maintenance and upgrades that are critical to providing reliable service. Partial closure of a subway line on four consecutive weeknights will allow us to more safely inspect, maintain, and upgrade our stations, tracks and signals in less time, at less cost.

Stay Informed

We understand the inconvenience this may cause you, and we will do everything possible to help you get to your destination safely and easily. For updated information, look for posters and brochures in stations, visit mta.info to sign up for free email or text message alerts, or call 511.

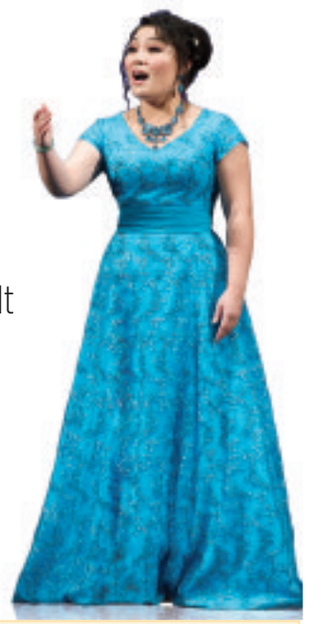
FASTRACK

2011 Metropolitan Transportation Authority

Two great classical music traditions—one glorious sound

"Simply astounding to watch, and a pleasure to the ear."
— OperaOnline

"Beautiful sound... strikingly intricate melodies."
— NYTheater.com



"Very moving in every way. It captivated all of my senses."
— Alessandra Marc, world-renowned soprano

FROM THE MOMENT the gong is struck to herald the beginning of the show, you know you are in for something musically memorable.

The Shen Yun Orchestra masterfully blends two of the world's greatest classical music traditions, Chinese and Western. Ancient Chinese instruments such as the soul-stirring erhu and the delicate pipa lead the melody on top of a full orchestra of Western strings, percussion, woodwinds, and brass. The Western orchestra with its energy and grandeur, and the Chinese instruments with their distinct tones and styles, create a dramatic new sound.

VOCAL SOLOISTS

The resounding voices of bel canto soloists are an integral part of the Shen Yun experience. Each program is heightened by several moving selections from our singers. Their impassioned songs give voice to hopes that have shaped Chinese culture for centuries.

CLOTHING AN EMPIRE

THERE'S A CHINESE SAYING: "Each dynasty has its own adornments," and thus Chinese history is replete with a lavish variety of apparel. Every year Shen Yun creates hundreds of gorgeous, hand-made garments spanning China's dynasties, regions, and ethnic groups. "I saw here the best example about how fabric, clothing, and sleeves can enhance the movement and tell the story," said famed designer Norma Kamali. With traditional garb of the Manchurians, Tibetans and Mongolians, the costumes consist of imperial dragon robes, cloud capes, ornate headdresses and vestments, warriors' armor, and celestial maidens' long silky sleeves.

PROJECTING TIME AND SPACE

VIVIDLY ANIMATED backdrops, grand as they are intricate, extend the stage and transport the audience. They are so remarkably true-to-life that audiences forget where they are and journey to another place and time. Spectacular settings reflect China's landscapes, dynasties, and mythology. Some scenes even transcend this world, entering a majestic paradise where fairies dance amid the clouds or in a heavenly palace. An innovation in the world of performing arts, Shen Yun's projection designs synchronize all aspects of the stage—costumes' colors, specific dance movements, props, lighting, the music of the orchestra—to create "a dream world of perfection," as one audience member exclaimed.

"An extraordinary experience ... exquisitely beautiful."

— Cate Blanchett, Academy Award-winning actress

"So inspiring ... I may have found some ideas for the next Avatar movie."

— Robert Stromberg, Academy Award-winning production designer for Avatar

"What I loved is the authenticity of it ... from a spiritual level."

—Donna Karan Creator of DKNY

"Their passion is really touching.

— Chi Cao, Principal Dancer of Birmingham Royal Ballet and lead actor in Mao's Last Dancer

"A beautiful show ... fantastic!"

— Joy Behar, Co-host of ABC's The View
